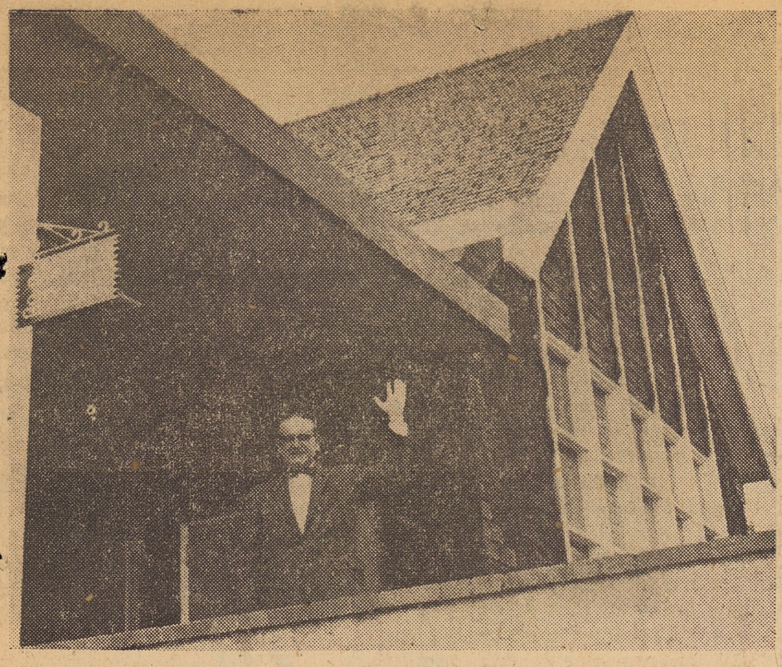
A GROWING NEWSPAPER A GROWING COMMUNITY

Vol. 64, No. 51 CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA 10c Thursday, Dec. 20, 1956



ALL'S WELL Is the message given by Planning Commissioner, T. R. Solari, as the final bit of equipment was moved into the new City Hall on Central Avenue.

City Gets Plans For Freeway

The city council, meeting for the first time Monday in the new hall on Central avenue, heard Mark Thomas, city engineer, report that a bundle of plans had just been received from the state Department of Highways, showing the course of Route 5 freeway from Los Gatos to Bascom avenue in San Jose. Thomas said the plans would have to be approved by today and returned to Sacramento, so Council authorized him and members of the streets and highways commission to review them and to act.

Thomas said the State intends to call for bids in 1957 and that the job will probably be completed in two years. The plans show how the freeway will cross over East Campbell avenue and the Los Gatos Creek, then go under the Southern Pacific Railway tracks and Hamilton Avenue where there is to be a four lane interchange. There is also to be an interchange at Union Avenue.

The council, seated on a platform, faced the audience, with the city clerk at a desk directly in front of the council and with desks at each end of the council desks, for use by the department heads and by the press.

Hearings were set for January 14, on an amending ordinance seeking to change "S" zone requirements as set up in Ordinance 43, and for the application of Bert and Romilda Burda to change zoning from R-1 to C-2-S on their property at 60 Mission Way.

In the amending ordinance the City Building Inspector may issue permits without approval of the Planning commission if the work for which the permit is issued: (1) is done entirely within an existing building and does not increase cubical contents, or (2) if the proposed construction does not change the appearance of any portion of a building which is visible from a public street or, (3) for signs of a value to $500 if not in violation of other city laws.

An ordinance was introduced for first reading to zone the southwest corner of Union and Campbell avenues as light industrial at request of land owners.

Council accepted with regrets the resignation from Brig. General Corwin Olds (Ret.) as chairman of the National Guard Advisory Committee in Campbell, effective January 15th. Mayor John Chargin said he had no one in mind now as a successor.

A proposal to buy a 2000 gallon gasoline storage tank to serve city owned vehicles was taken under advisement. W. L. Morser, building inspector, said the city now uses about 900 gallons of gasoline per month.

When two matters relating to policy were brought before the council by Police Chief Robert Locke and by LeRoy Black, superintendent of streets, it was announced by Mayor Chargin that policy matters of such nature will in the future be discussed in the conference room prior to each regular meeting which will be administrative.

Fire Chief Jack Scott in the meantime had asked how much should his department spend in keeping the fire truck turned over from the old Central Fire district in repair. There has not been adequate housing for it, as it was to have been under cover had a new station been set up in the west end of town with passage of bonds in 1955. The election did not carry. The vehicle was referred to as the "Bonacina Special" because the city through its city attorney, had won its case for a just apportionment of taxes from the Central Fire District and Santa Clara County, the fire truck being a part of the settlement.

What to do with some $725 remaining in the old fund of the Central Fire district and belonging to Campbell, was a problem presented the council by City Attorney Bonacina, the area involved being that portion of Rosemary Lane that was in the Central Fire District but which has not been annexed to Campbell.

The city rejected a claim about sanitary sewer lines

On The Line in Campbell

Mrs. David T. Bob Alvarez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alvarez, 437 Palm Avenue, recently won the 147 pound weight division in the boxing tournament at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo where he is a sophomore majoring in agricultural engineering.

Dr. Robert Jasmine of Campbell has ben elected vice president of the Santa Clara County Optometric Society to serve the 1957 term, with Dr. Charles McDonald of San Jose as president.

In the Rotary Club bulletin, Cliff Cassiday notes that his fellow members are not a bunch of deadheads as the Campbell club today has more things brewing than they have over at Fallstaffs.

The plate glass and the glass door at the entrance of the new city hall on Central avenue, are so transparent that several visitors have bumped noses trying to walk through, among them, the City Attorney, Joseph Bonacina and the Rev. Corwin Olds . . . while the council was in session there was a loud crash as a spectator tried walking through the door without opening it.

Did you lose a pale blue parakeet? Well somebody found one. Joan Sylvia, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sylvia, found the bird last Sunday perched in a tree in her backyard. A neighbor is keeping the bird in a cage with her own bird until someone claims it. The Sylvias' home is at 65 E. Latimer Ave. in Campbell, (FR 8-8272). The numbers on the band attached to the bird's leg are, 52 (then a heart shaped emblem) H-552178. If it's your bird you'd better get it quick, they are affraid that it will kill its cage companion.

Ed Bealer, local insurance agent, underwent surgery at O'Connor Hospital last week and he is recuperating nicely. It is not expected that he will be home for Christmas.

Nice gesture by the newly incorporated City of Saratoga in sending flowers on opening of Campbell's new city hall on Monday.

BIDS CALLED FOR ANOTHER SCHOOL HERE

Big Jump in Assessed Valuations May Block State Aid to District

Bids were called today for opening on the evening of January 10 for the new Parkway Elementary School to be located at Saratoga Avenue and Forest Avenue, this to be the twelfth school in the Campbell Elementary School system. The eleventh school on Fruitvale Avenue, known as the Sherman Oaks school is still under construction.

The new school will have eight classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, an administrative office, multi-use room, covered corridors and site development.

To keep pace with rapid developments in the Campbell Elementary School district, plans are being drawn today for a 13th school to be known as the Blackford School. C. E. Bradley, district business manager doubted today if the district will qualify for state aid as a distress area, in view of increased assessed valuation of eleven million dollars in one year, citing that property assessment within the district one year ago was 31-million dollars as compared with 42-million dollars today.

Rotarians Finish Another Traffic Safety Project

Members of the Campbell Rotary Club completed its third project of the year this week relative to traffic safety and better vision when, under chairmanship of Ray Strong, some 33 impressions were stenciled on crosswalks along Campbell avenue from San Jose Road to Winchester Road and on South Winchester Road. Douglas Fitzgerald is general chairman of the campaign. A poster contest, and a series of signs, "Keep Your Eye on the Small Fry" posted at the opening of the school terms.

At the meeting Monday with Les Harman as chairman, the a capella choir, directed by George Triena, were presented in a group of Christmas carols.

The annual Christmas party with Merv Willoughby, presiding, was held last night for the club members and their families at Hamilton School.

Hamann to Speak At Chamber Meet

Plans for the annual Dinner Meeting of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce on the evening of Tuesday, January 8 in the Grammar School Cafeteria, were announced today by Milton Nelson, president. A. P. Hamann, city manager at San Jose, the speaker of the evening, is expected to tell of future plans regarding annexations and how they will effect the Campbell area. Hamann will go on record that night, it is said, that San Jose will not cross the lines now agreed on by the councils of the two citits. Members of the Campbell City Council are expected to be present.

Russell Pettit, secretary-manager of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce will talk on Chamber of Commerce projects as they may be helpful to Campbell.

President Nelson will report on what the Campbell Chamber of Commerce has accomplished in the past year, and Sam Cava, secretary-manager will tell some of the projects ahead for 1957.

An announcement will be made of balloting on members to the directorate. Ballots are now in the mail to all members.

At a recent meeting of the directors, a vote of confidence was given the City Council to call a bond election to embrace costs for a city park and recreation center in keeping with the increasing population.

CAMBRIAN DISTRICT PLANS ANOTHER SCHOOL FOR 1957

Two years ago Cambrian School district was served by one school with total enrollment of 1150, while today four schools serve the district and a fifth one is to be built in 1957 to take care of a total enrollment of 2500.

The Cambrian District Board of Trustees reported today that the fifth school will be named the A. L. Metzler School in honor of a pioneer resident of the district. It is to be on a 10-acre site on Union Avenue between Foxworthy and Camden and will have 15 classrooms, two kindergartens, administration and nurse's office, duplicate in design to the Farnham School, completed last month. Delos Bagby, district superintendent said that by using the same plan the district will save 2½% in architect fees.

Construction plans will also call for completing the Bagby school by adding five more classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and an administration wing.

First additional unit was the Steindorf school opened in March, 1955 when district enrollment was 1200, the second unit was the Bagby School opened in February, 1956 when enrollment was 1750 and the Farnham school opened on November 18 when district enrollment was 2262, Bagby stated.

Campbell, Camden Students Winners Of Contest Awards

After winning the Essay award at Campbell Rotary Club, sponsored by the Santa Clara County Optometric Society, Sue Koester went on to win the County award with the same essay, and became eligible to participate in the State contest for which there is a $100

Police and Local Merchants Join To Nab Forgers

Sharp-eyed Campbell merchants and Campbell Police, in cooperation with Santa Clara County Sheriff's Department Detectives, teamed up this week to nab a San Jose man and woman reputed to have passed close to $2000 worth of bad checks in this area.

Police said Alice Conner, 23, passed a forged check for $36 at the Cheerio Market on Winchester Road and Sunnside Ave. in Campbell. The proprietors of the market obtained the license number of her car.

Police traced the car and were led to Miss Conner's accomplice, Augustine Galindo, 23, of San Jose. Acting on information obtained from Galindo, Campbell Police and Sheriff's detectives arrested Miss Conner last Tuesday.

According to Officer Dick Mayne, of the Campbell Police Department, the Towne Pride Market on E. Campbell Ave. was also a victim of the forgers.

Police said the woman admitted passing bad checks in Santa Clara, Cambrian, Sunnyvale and San Jose, as well as Campbell.

Both are now in the County Jail

THE ROOF Was coming off the old Walker house at the corner of Campbell avenue and south Second Street yesterday, but it was because the structure which had stood there for half a century, was being demolished to make way for the new American Trust Company bank building. The new building designed for 35 or 40 employees, will be started right after the first of the year and be completed about the first of June, according to Joaquin Payne, bank manager here.

'Low Overhead' Brings Cambrian School Cost Cut

Some $40,000 was saved in construction cost of the Martin H. Farnham School, because less expensive window glass and conconstruction materials were used on the job, according to architect John M. Evans. The school was opened one month ago, and the same plan will be used for the fifth school in the Cambrian Elementary School district, according to Delos Bagby, district superintendent.

Discarding the modern theory of lighting classrooms by natural light through large windows, Evans designed nine-foot high ceilings instead of the normal 12 feet, and reduced the height of windows from six to four feet.

Evans pointed out that natural light seldom supplies the amount of lighting needed in classrooms. He said that on a sunny day in the Daves Avenue School near Los Gatos, only three of the 15 rooms were using natural lighting only.

By eliminating large glass windows, eye strain and glare on chalk boards were cut down and loss of heat was reduced, Evans added.

The 17-classroom Farnham School was built at a cost of $458,000, and has an enrollment of about 650. It is located at 15711 Woodard Road.

The school—the fourth in Cambrian Elementary School District—restored the normal classroom load to Cambrian and Steindorf Schools, according to Supt. Delos M. Bagby.

Principal of the school is Albert A. Vatuone, and Mrs. Faye Schoonover is vice principal.

SET BACK LINE FOR CITY HALL IS APPROVED

At an adjourned meeting of the Planning Commission in the firehouse Thursday night, approval was given the application from the city council for a variance and use permit seeking that the city hall on Central avenue be allowed to remain with one-and a-half foot setback. The building, formerly since 1891 used for services by the Campbell Congregational Church, is in the residential zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Simmons were on hand to voice protest that approval by the Planners of this application might set a precedent, only to be assured by Commissioner Holls Logue and other members in session, that this would not result from their favorable action in this instance. Acting Chairman Samuel O'Brien said that any variances from established setback line in a residential area requires a public hearing.

New Subdivisions

Planners approved for a six months period the application of Fred Zolezzi to erect a real estate subdivision sign on the southeast corner of Rosemary Lane and Winchester Road, the applicant to provide a bond holding the city harmless from any damages. Zolezzi said the sign will be erected in about two weeks. There are 36 building sites in the subdivision which are on David Avenue, Rosemary Lane and DeTracey Way.

Be on Alert!

Campbell Police issue a warning this week to Campbell merchants to be on the alert for bad checks and shoplifters.

Check passers, Police warn, take advantage of the holiday season as do shoplifters. To date there is an estimated $1500 worth of bad checks held by Campbell merchants. Police recently apprehended a woman who had passed approximately $2000 worth of forged checks in the San Jose area, many of them in Campbell.

That the postal department is not committed other than by option, to set up a new postoffice building on North Central Avenue, and that the field is still wide open, was the statement made here yesterday by Ira Grim, postmaster.

The option, which is for 90 days, is for the site at 97-109 North Central Avenue which two weeks ago was approved for use permit by the Planning Commission. Grim points out however that someone will have to finance the construction of the building to government specifications and accept a term lease for its use at this location. The same offer would be considered on any other site which would meet government requirements in respect to alleyway entrance or turn-about facilities for large trucks.

The proposed location on Central Avenue is 120 feet from the new city hall on a lot 80 x 197. A 6000 square foot minimum sized building would be a requirement it was said. Owners of the Central Avenue site are Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kennedy of Catalpa Lane.

Yule Business Good

Postmaster Grim said yesterday that receipts for the first 14 business days of December were $12,193.73 as compared with $10,392.80 for the same period in 1955, or an increase of 17 per cent. The incoming and outgoing mail shows an increase of even greater proportions.

For the first time in history the annual postal receipts will be over $100,000 in Campbell, when final returns are in by December 31, Grim stated.

AT YOUR SERVICE Said Evelyn Adamson, assistant city clerk, as the new office was opened in the city hall Monday, the Christmas tree being in keeping with the season's spirit. The offices all seemed neat and the department heads very pleased with the facilities.

San Tomas Parents Want School Bus Service Resumed

A meeting attended by six Theresa and W. Parr avenue parents was held last Thursday night on the question of school bus transportation for their children to the San Tomas Grammar School.

The parents are seeking a resumption of bus service, which was discontinued this summer because the area was re-zoned by the Campbell Union Elementary School District Board of Trustees. About 20 children are involved on Theresa and W. Parr avenues.

According to Mrs. Gwen Lucas, 1039 Theresa Ave., the area had bus service previous to the current semester. She said that early last month the parents had presented a petition with signitures of some 300 San Tomas parents to the board of trustees. The petition, circulated also to parents whose children were being taken to school by bus, asked that young kindergarten and first grade children be picked up by school buses.

William C. Henley, superintendent of the Campbell Union Elementary School District, said yesterday that the board is conducting a district-wide survey of the school bus situation. It will be completed sometime after the first of the year. According to Henley, the survey was begun before the San Tomas parents presented the petition.

Henley said that the petition was circulated "far and wide" over the school district and that it asked that young kindergarten and first grade children be picked up by the school bus. A question that anyone would agree to, Henley declared.

Mrs. Lucas contends that a bus which transports children for special classes at Rosemary School can pick up the children on Theresa and W. Parr. She said that she "chased" the bus one morning and found it contained "only five or six children."

Henley said that Mrs. Lucas must have picked an unusual day. The San Tomas school bus is carrying a capacity load.

The school has an enrollment of approximately 520 students, an increase of about 55 students over last year.

"I can see absolutely no reason for not picking up our children," Mrs. Lucas said. The distance to the school from Theresa Avenue is about one mile. To get to the school the children must walk down Hacienda Avenue. Mrs. Lucas called it a "racetrack", contending it has no sidewalks.

Henley reported that an attempt was being made by the school district to obtain a right of way through an orchard which would cut down the distance the children would have to walk to school and keep them off busy streets. The easement would cut through the orchard at the end of Audrey Avenue and come out on Hacienda. Henley said, however, that the school is having trouble contacting the owner of the land who does not live on the property.

The San Tomas Parents' petition is the second one concerning school bus service presented to the district trustees. Early last October 40 parents of Dover Elementary School children signed a petition for resumption of bus service in their area.

Trustees voted unanimously to reinstate bus service to the area on a temporary basis. The allowance simply modified the line between walking and riding, did not represent any radical change in the school transportation policy. The trustees said at the time that if the buses became too crowded the parents would have to take the children to school.

Car Flow Centers West of Campbell, Survey Indicates

A recent traffic count taken by the Campbell Police on the streets leading into the city seems to indicate that the flow is centered heavily in the western end of town.

The traffic counters were placed in nine different locations around town for a period of 24 hours. Winchester Road leads in the number of cars using it with a total of 13,047. The counter was placed just north of Campbell Ave.

The next heaviest used, according to the survey, is E. Campbell Ave. west of the Winchester Road intersection. The total was 7538.

The street taking the least load during a 24-hour period, the survey indicated, is Rincon Ave. west of Winchester Road, with 1068.

Totals of other counters and their their locations are as follows: 11,220, at the intersection of Winchester Road and Sunnyside Ave.; 7177, at Hamilton Ave. west of Central Ave.; 7090, Campbell Ave. at Fourth St.; 4990, Hamilton Ave east of Harrison Ave.; 3874, Campbell Ave. at the Los Gatos Creek Bridge; and 1115, Central Ave. north of Grant St.

According to Officer Dick Mayne, the department conducts periodic traffic counts to determine the load of traffic on streets as an indication to the placing of traffic signs, and a determination of the extent of the need for widening or otherwise improving the thoroughfare.

Campbell Police Jail Child Molester

A Campbell area man, Ben Phillip Langnes, 41, of 660 Emory Ave. was jailed yesterdy by Campbell Police on charges of molesting three young girls.

Acting on a complaint received from the girls, Officer Dick Mayne made the arrest.

According to Officer Mayne, the girls identified Langnes as their assailant. He has a prior record for child molesting.

BLUE BELL CAFE
Azalea - Charlie
and the Girls

Lynn Beatty, right, and sons Douglas and Harold, who head the Western Gravel Company plant in Campbell, have developed a 'slab and sleeper' technique for use by building contractors which allow for the laying of hardwood flooring over wooden meshing in concrete slabs, cutting construction time on the average home from 12 to 15 days. In Willowbrae, 21 homes using this construction were sold in two weeks and have been very satisfactory to both builders and home owners, according to an article in a trade magazine published by Permanente Co. and H. J. Kaiser Company.

WESTERN GRAVEL CO. GROWS WITH VALLEY

From a small beginning, a Campbell firm with a management that thought big, has now become one of the leading material suppliers of the Santa Clara Valley, according to an article in the October, 1956 issue of "This Earth" the official publication of Permanente Cement Company and the Henry J. Kaiser Company. The article relates how the binding strength of many new roads, schools, home, factories, stores an dother structures in the energetic Santa Clara Valley have been provided with aggregates by the Western Gravel Company of Campbell.

The article first points out that for many years the southern end of the San Francisco peninsula has been like a finger on the Santa Clara valley, resting comfortably between the Santa Cruz and Diablo mountain ranges. Continuing it states:

"Not too long ago, men thought of this valley in terms of orchards and truck farms, gentle hills decorated with gnarled oaks and grazing cattle. Businessmen and career army and navy folk saw the region as an ideal place to retire, close to mountain streams and the sunny Santa Cruz beaches.

"But the sleeping giant that was the Bay Area was awakened by the industrial speed-up brought on by the second World War. Production capacities of existing plans were doubled, then tripled . . . new industries arrived with workers and their families . . . Industrial planners and residential developers directed their interests south along the busy shores of the bay.

"Among the valley residents watching the sudden migration of factories and homes, shops and schools was Lynn Beatty, general manager of Western Gravel Company. Beatty had been preparing for such a growth since he and a San Jose attorney, James Boccardo, bought out a small gravel plant on the Los Gatos Creek at Campbell in 1940.

"When we took over the company before the outbreak of Second World War, according to Beatty, it was doing about 36,000 annual gross. We started growing gradually, adding one new piece of equipment at a time, or a couple of new men."

Beatty tells that in early 1942 when the gross was $9,000 per month, they bought two ready-mix trucks and built a bunker for batching concrete. In 1943 and 1944 the firm branched out into other building materials and put up their first storage shed. Then gravel producing facilities expanded and re-expanded, but still could not keep up with the demand.

"Western Gravel turned to the Henry J. Kaiser Company plants at Felton and Niles for its aggregates, added bulk trucks to its highway fleet until today there are 55 vehicles in the fleet delivering $2,000,000 worth of building materials.

"Last month Western Gravel was supplying materials to no fewer than 15 separate residential developments, twelve school construction projects and to numerous county and city road and sidewalk jobs."

Beatty estimates the population of Campbell area at about 5,000 in 1940 as compared with over 20,000 today. In this same period the Campbell school district experienced the fastest growth of any district in the state. Beatty claims now to have furnished building materials for most of these new schools.

Beatty's sons, Harold and Douglas, joined the firm in 1950. Harold is now the general superintendent of the 60-acre plant, while Douglas, the youngest member, is assistant manager in charge of sales and purchases.

New Idea Works

Western Gravel has today developed an interest in new building methods. The story continues:

"In recent weeks Beatty and sons have been promoting a 'slab-and-sleeper' building technique that makes hardwood floors feasible on a concrete slab base. Well received by builders and prospective homeowners, it calls for the slab to be laid over a pea gravel base. The concrete is swabbed with a pre-heated rubber mastic, over which a network of 2x4s is placed. After setting to form an inseparable bond with the mastic—hardwood floors can then be nailed into place. This doubles the normal use of concrete per house, builders are happy with the technique. Besides cutting construction time some 12 to 15 days, model homes in Willowbrae made by this method sold well.

Beatty and Boccardo feel that the Santa Clara valley growth has about been reached, but that their faith in the area continues. Growth will be more steady, and we will continue to grow with the valley, they concluded.

Sewer Tax to Take Hike

It will cost the City of Campbell $8821 in the fiscal year 1956-57 for sewer service and use of the newly opened San Jose Municipal Sewage Treatment Plant, according to a report released this week by Santa Clara County Sanitation District No. 4.

The cost to the district of using the plant and its incoming and outgoing sewers is approximately $62,000, including the amounts charged to Los Gatos and Campbell.

The increases in cost brought on by the new sewage plant will mean a hike in the current 40-cent maintenance tax by the district to a $1.10 charge—per single family residence.

The Campbell City Council is expected to follow the district and hike city sewer taxes to the same figure—from 40 cents.

The City took over the old Campbell Sanitation District when it was incorporated. It allows District 4 to administer the old sanitation district under a contract, but still the City Council must go through the formality of okaying the tax hike.

District 4 includes Campbell, Los Gatos, Saratoga and the Cambrian Park areas. It contains about 67 miles of sanitary sewers—all of which must be maintained.

An agreement arrived at between the district and San Jose will provide for use of the sewers leading to and from the plant on the basis of an unlimited capacity, whereas the existing agreement provides only for a fixed capacity at a specified rental, with a percentage of the maintenance cost paid by the district.

The new agreement will cost the district $17,440 more—one of the reasons for the increase in taxes, along with the rent charged by the sewage treatment plant for treating District 4 sewage.

The costs to the City of Campbell break down as follows: (district 4 costs are in parentheses) $360 for maintenance and operation of district sewers ($31,900); $161 for maintenance of sewers jointly owned with The City of San Jose ($288); $3320 for the use of sewers owned by San Jose ($5878); and $4980 for treatment of sewage by the new plant ($19,380).

The latter charge for sewage treatment is based on a charge for reserved capacity, rather than a charge based on use.

Frank Pankretz Claimed by Death

Final rites were held last Monday for Frank H. Pankretz, 64 who passed away at his Los Gatos home after a prolonged illness.

A native of Marion, South Dakota, he came to California in 1918, and after living in the Fresno area, came to Los Gatos in 1929 and had made his home in this area since that time.

He was a member of Mechanics Union Local 1101 and Cannery Union Local 679.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Anna E. Pankretz of Los Gatos, two sons, Loyal Pankretz of Pasadena and Harvey L. Pankretz of Lancaster, besides eight grandchildren.

The Rev. Herbert Neale of First Methodist Church of Campbell officiated at last rites at 1 p.m. last Monday from Campbell Memorial Chapel. Interment was in Santa Clara City Cemetery.

Campbell Wrestlers Win Over Gilroy

Campbell High School Varsity wrestling team defeated Gilroy by a score of 24 to 20 last Friday at Gilroy. Coach McDermott had high praise for his team and particularly Werthman, Prnjak, Gaxiola, and Nevis. Werthman was within one second of being pinned and then fought back and pinned his opponent. Prnjak had difficulty holding his man down but piled up 8 points to take a decision.

Each match consists of three periods of two minute duration. The wrestler tries to pin his opponent or gain a decision on points. Team points are: a draw, two points for each team; a decision, 3 points for the victor's team; and a pin is 5 points for the winner's team.

Bucs Look Good In Hoop Tourney

By Richard Ferguson

Improvement was shown by the Campbell Buccaneers in their defeat of the Lincoln Lions for the Consolation trophy Saturday night 45-43 at the James Lick Invitational Tournament. Lincoln won over the Bucs earlier in the season.

Fremont downed the Bucs in the opening game and then went on to take the tourney championship. Campbell played the Indians on even terms in the first half with the Indians breaking loose in the third quarter. Clayton Bowling who was later named the tourney's outstanding player led the Indians with 14 points followed closely by Mathieson with 12 and Kelly with 10. Gene Andres paced the Bucs with 10 while Roger Almquist and Ron Rowe followed with 8 and 7 respectively.

The second game saw the Bucs come out on the long end of a 53-49 score.

The regulation time ended in a 48-48 tie and three minutes extra was needed by the Bucs to subdue the Bulldogs. Campbell defeated the Bulldogs by one point earlier in the season.

Jerry Shenefiel led the Buc scorers with 14 points with Kriewall dropping in 9. Ebeling led the defeated Bulldogs with 12 followed by Fortin with 8.

In the consolation game the Bucs were behind most of the game but not too far out of sight to catch the Lions and surpass them in the last few seconds of the game. Campbell played a fine defensive game on the small men but big (66) John Hosley hit for 24 points and a new tourney record for individual scoring.

Campbell trailed at the half way mark 24-21 and also at the three way point. Don Kitajima hit a 25 foot set shoot with about two minutes left in the ball game to knot the score 43-43. Jim Keech connected on a 15 foot set with just 15 second remaining in the game to put the Bucs ahead until the gun sounded ending the game at 45-43 for Campbell. Roger Almquist led the victorious Bucs with 12 points followed closely by Andres and Rowe with 10 each. John Hosley led the scoring in the game with his record breaking 24

FRANK KOONTZ
... Awarded Trophy

Frank Koontz, end on the Campbell High School football team won the 'Player of the Year' trophy at the annual Awards Dinner held Thursday evening at the highschool auditorium when Herm Meister, line coach for University of California was the main speaker. Koontz, who played guard on the second team last year, was the player whom coaches said has displayed the greatest improvement.

Coach Jim Muir told an audience of nearly 100 that Koontz had received 23 passes, made 515 yard gains, scored two touchdowns and passed for two touchdowns during the season, a record far above the average for a linesman in high school leagues. On Monday at the Campbell Rotary Club, Koontz was officially awarded the trophy. It was pointed out that this will be an annual award by the Rotary Club.

Homer Hyde, chairman of the PTA Dad's Club acted as master of ceremonies. Jim Muir, head coach, introduced his staff, George Misculin, Wade Wilson, Lou Marotti, Jim Bunger, Hal Raley and Rod MacDermott, the latter two being coaches of the lightweight team.

Muir said Campbell was the only one of the high schools in the valley fielding three teams. He said it was school policy to encourage players to be good citizens and play ball in the classrooms as well as on the field by getting good grades. The team made great improvement in the final games, and there was good team spirit shown at the game with Fremont. Because there are seven sophomores and six juniors on the team, it seems there will be a winning team on the field for the next two years.

Student managers introduced were Eddie Fallgatter, Ray Souther and Joe Lavett. Members of the team present who were introduced were: Ken Buran, Jim Mallman, Dave Smith, Tom Farley, Carlos Ochoa, Gene Bowen, Mike Browne, Jim Corbus, Hector Cordova, John Duncan, Dick Dunlop, Jim Henry, Jim Keech, Frank Koontz, Gary Prnjak, Mike Profit, Ray Salvano, Bud Scribner and Calvin Vargas.

Herm Meister said University of California this year had about the same season as did Campbell High School, but will show big improvements in the next two years. He said U.C. will field one of the best quarterbacks in College football next year. Scholastic requirements for both U. C. and Stanford are high now, and any student who qualifies for either school, can America. —L.E.L.

GAS RATE HIKE FOR LARGE USERS ASKED BY PG&E

San Francisco, Dec. 20—To offset recent fuel oil price increases, which resulted in higher field costs for natural gas, Pacific Gas and Electric Company today filed an application with the California Public Utilities Commission to increase rates for large natural gas customers.

About 1200 of the Company's 1,461,000 gas customers will be affected, PG&E said. These are "interruptible" service customers, mostly large industries, which obtain bulk gas at rates lower than those charged other, classified as "firm" customers.

Safer Driving Through Better Vision

Winning Essay by Sue Koester

Here is the essay by Sue Koester that won the $25 award of the Campbell Rotary Club and which won the Santa Clara County Optometric Society award to qualify for state contest.

Sue Koester, Senior

"One must see danger to avoid it", and Joe knows it! Joe always wears his glasses when driving, for he knows they must be worn with 20/40 vision, or weaker.

Joe realizes the importance of clear, clean windshields. He doesn't clutter his view with stickers, toys or baby shoes. He keeps his rear view mirror clean and properly focused.

Joe is especially careful at night, for two-thirds of the fatalities occur in the evening hours. He turns on his headlights after sunset, not only to see, but to be seen. He knows it is against the law to drive with parking lights on at any time, and he always dims his lights when approaching other cars.

Because Los Angeles has reduced their number of accidents through the addition of street lights, Joe is working on a committee to improve the lighting in his community.

Joe was shocked to realize that eighty-five per cent of all accidents are preventable. As a conscientious citizen, he is working to alleviate the slaughter on our highways.

But I am ashamed to admit that Joe is only a figment of a school girl's imagination. I've never met a "Joe", have you?

Miss Darlene Bohn Changes Name In Nuptials at St. Lucy's Church

Miss Darlene Mary Bohn was attended by her four sisters when she became the bride of Joseph Cucchiari in a double ring ceremony on the afternoon of December 9 at St. Lucy's Church in Campbell. The Rev. Thomas Ahern officiated at the rites.

When she was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a gown of chantilly lace over bridal satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, a V-neckline and long sleeves, tapering to a point at the wrist. Her full skirt swept into a train in the back. In her hair, she wore a jeweled crown which held her fingertip veil, and she carried a French bouquet of stephanotis centered with white orchids.

Her sister, Miss Loretta Bohn, was her maid of honor. Her aqua gown of taffeta was made with a fitted bodice and bouffant ballerina length skirt. With it she wore a French bouquet of orchid carnations, centered with pink roses.

Her three other sisters, Mmes. Pat Woodbridge, Helen Hummel and Lillian Buzzetta, were her bridesmaids. Their gowns of orchid taffeta were fashioned identical to the maid of honor. They carried Franch bouquets of aqua carnations, centered with pink roses.

Little Susan Woodbridge, the bride's niece, was her flower girl.

Richard Mastro Antonio attended the groom as best man, while ushers were Ted Bohn, Jr., and Bill Bohn, brothers of the bride, Bob Olmetti, Frank Mastro Antonio and Guido Colomorino.

Don Hoque sang nuptial music, accompanied by Miss Marilyn Ott at the organ.

Mrs. Theodore Bohn chose a two piece dress of orchid Bonjorine for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore beige accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Anthony Cucchiara, the grooms mother, was attired in a dress of light blue lace with navy accessories and pinned a white orchid corsage at her shoulder.

After the ceremony, more than 300 friends and relatives of the couple gathered at the History Club in Los Gatos for the reception when the newlyweds cut their four-tiered cake. Guests danced to the music of Terry Hughes and his "Swing Seven". This is the group that furnished music for the "Stars of the Future" radio program for which the bride's father was master of ceremonies over radio station KEEN.

Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Carmel and Monterey. When she left for the honeymoon, the new Mrs. Cucchiara wore a pink wool dress with black accessories and a white orchid corsage. On returning from their trip, the couple will make their home in Oakland.

The new Mrs. Cucchiara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore "Ebb" Bohn of Campbell. "Ebb" Bohn is also widely known throughout the Santa Clara Valley as the "Cheery Farmer". They make their home at 61 North Central Ave. in Campbell. Darlene graduated from Campbell Union High School and is secretary to the vice president of Richmond-Chase in San Jose.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cucchiara of Oakland. He attended Oakland schools and is now an electrician apprentice. He has three brothers, Fred, Dominic and Tony Cucchiara, also a sister, Mrs. Frances Bianoti.

HAPPY COUPLE NOW MR. AND MRS. . . . Justwed Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cucchiari coming down the aisle at St. Lucy's Church in Campbell following the ceremony. The new Mrs. Cucchiari is the former Miss Darlene Mary Bohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore "Ebb" Bohn of Campbell.

San Jose's Boundary Lines

Well, what do you know? The Campbell Chamber of Commerce has dropped its sticks and stones, and come next month, it will introduce A. P. Hamann, the city manager of San Jose as its main speaker at the annual dinner meeting. Hamann is to explain just what boundary lines are to be maintained by San Jose and what limits Campbell may have, in a plan for expansion by annexations.

Mayor John Chargin said last week that these two cities expect to respect the lines, and that for our part, we are going to be very vigilant about it. Hamann has promised to make an official statement.

We're still a bit skeptical. We want to be good neighbors and understand the other fellow's problem. But they might as well know now, that we're not going to be a borough. We are not going to lose our civic identity. We're not going to be suburbanized. Campbell is developing soundly, progressively and economically. Hi, Mr. Hamann. Welcome to Campbell.

When Youth Takes Over

The students who took over the government of Campbell for a day, seemed to be equal to the task and in at least one instance brought the council to their way of thinking. This was good, sound democracy in the making, and everyone gained from the experience.

It was so enlightening that those who made the plans have decided that this will be an annual affair.

Chamber of Commerce Looks Ahead

Sensing the need for a park and recreation facilities, the Campbell Chamber of Commerce went on record a few days ago in favor of any action by the city which will bring such civic features to fruition.

This was one of the propositions voted on a year ago that came very close to carrying in a bond issue. The plan then was to have another fire station on the west side of the city, near which there might also be a park. The firemen in spare time could help in park maintenance.

We seem to have gone all out with playgrounds and sports equipment in the various schools of the Campbell and Cambrian districts, all of which serve the younger people to great advantage. But there is nothing set up for the adults, young and old. The Chamber sees this as a need, just as in most cities there are parks and recreation centers for adults, the ones who pay today's bills. Likely as not the City Council will have some plans along this line in the next year or so. This time, it will probably be approved by the voters.

Do We Want Rapid Transit?

There has been quite a bit of talk and planning for a Rapid Transit system between San Francisco and deep down the Peninsula to San Jose, a subject that may be debated for even more years. It seemed entirely feasible a few short years ago, but now there are new conditions.

Just what good would such a system be stretching this far south? People go to San Francisco during daylight hours to work and shop. With the trend toward decentralization, and with this end of the line growing as an industrial and business community, there are more and more people living and working here. Same goes for shoppers.

Campbell merchants with plenty of free parking, today offer a wide selection of merchandise at competitive prices, and that which cannot be found here can easily be found in neighboring communities without going to San Francisco.

Rapid Transit, like so many of these big plans, sounds good in theory. But before it becomes a reality, there will be intelligent opposition voiced from municipal, industrial and business leaders. The people, too, will probably want a voice in deciding the issue as to who is to be included or excluded from the proposed Transit district.

Councilman Robert Beckwith of San Carlos, who has sat in at Senate Interim committee meetings, maintains that it would cost about $31,000,0 00 in extra funds each year ,requiring 67 cents in taxes per $100 assessed valuation, on property in the bay area thus served. The question is, whether it is worth it.

Times change. This end of the peninsula is becoming as big as the other end. Some day it may even be bigger.

CAMPBELL GAMBOL

By Lester Lafferty

SEEMS LIKE Yesterday that I was writing this colunm as something inside says to me, "get going —get going, and make it interesting"—same old prodding that most columnists face . . . I have written such column each week for eighteen years, some good ones and many only fair . . . sometimes the stuff just about writes itself, when things happen and we hear about them and have a part in the action—then like now, when we have not had our eyes and ears alerted for news angles, it may flow a little harder at which time the reading becomes heavier . . . . we try to keep it light, and full of human interest . . . as the same pounding goes on to "get going, you have a deadline".

I THINK George was a little worried in getting out of here Friday noon for Las Vegas where he was to be married . . . he wrote a lot of instructions in longhand much of which I couldn't read and what I could, he had repeated about three times, one time asking if I was sure I could handle it . . . he was to call me from Las Vegas to see if all was well, and I just couldn't tell him other wise, because I love it here in the Campbell Press office, writing for such a fine family of readers, with a good staff and, knowing that when I am occupied with other work, there is someone like George in the office, squirming in the chair, darting about gathering all the news as a good journalist should, making friends, dreaming of better things for the people in the Campbell area and fighting for those principles he believes to be right, whether you agree with him or not . . . I like it even better now that he has a help mate for life for he will soon sense new responsibilities and be steadied by a hand that is not his alone.

FROM WHERE I SIT in a real estate office at Los Gatos, I wonder sometimes what will be the future of this area as all the land is developed . . . Cambrian School district enrollment doubled in two years, very few building sites available close to shopping centers where the housewives don't have to get in the family car to shop for food . . . traffic hazards, smog, recreation all are becoming problems, so what will it be like in another decade or two . . . I look out on the Los Gatos hills and write ad copy for 1976 in the Campbell Press.

HELICOPTER HEIGHTS . . . New Homes in an exclusive area . . . on these hills may be just the site for that new home, nicely terraced and available for $10,000 each.

Remember there are no roadways to add to the hazards of the pedestrians . . . children may play at random, away from motor cars, smog and prowlers . . . Homes in Helicopter Heights sell at from $25,000 to $75,000 . . . they are equipped with roof-top hangar-garages that are electronically controlled to open and close with the approach of the family helicopter . . . you move to an elevator having push button controls and are soon in one of the split-level floors. Like the old-fashioned automobile or airplane of grandmother's day, the Helicopter Heights home is served with a panel, or dashboard, with all the necessary controls for modern living in the rarified and pure air that is only available at these elevated heights kissing the clouds where you become intimate with the pasture of stars.

No money down if you own a helicopter and earn $2500 or more per month. Remember Helicopter Heights as a community is radar controlled, so that it is impossible for jet planes from Japan, Egypt, Austraila or other main lines, from entering the community zone . . . each new home carries an automatic insurance policy protecting from any such damage.

ROAD RUNNERS, a car club of the Campbell-San Jose area just organized, will furnish a Christmas dinner and all the trimmings for a needy family in Campbell, even gathering toys and clothing for the youngsters . . . the club strives to promote safety and courtesy on the highways and a greater understanding between the hot rodders and the public . . . Chic Gannon of Chic's Auto Supply at Cambrian Corners, is the advisor and sponsor of the group, the officers being Jim Dupont, president pro tem; Kerry Levenberg, vice president; Don Cosentino, secretary; Bob Kuslo, treasurer and Gary Cobb, sergeant-at-arms.

NEW POLITICAL PARTY LOOMS FOR CALIFORNIA

Registrars throughout California learned to day that a movement had begun in Los Angeles to qualify the Constitution Party for the ballot in California with Fred Boon as state chairman.

Prayer: Church and City

A prayer of farewell delivered when the last service was held in the Congregational Church on Central Avenue last July by the Rev. Corwin Olds, was repeated Monday night when, in this same building, the City Council met under ownership of the building, now extensively remodelled. The church now is on West Campbell Avenue. The prayer:

"Now as we bid a fond farewell to this Church building made sacred by its ministry of the years, we do so with love and gratitude in our hearts. And as we commend it to its new use as a City Hall, we pray that as such it may continue to serve the best and most constructive interests of the people of Campbell as children of the Almighty God. May thy Holy Spirit still dwell in this place, howsoever much it may be remodelled, and inspire citizens and city government alike with lofty aims, wise decisions, courageous actions, and unselfish service; through Christ our Lord, Amen."

Campbell Girls Take Scout Posts

Senior Girl Scouts Peni Yuki and Sigrid Bergren, of troops 83 and 6 of Campbell, were installed into offices of the intertroop council at the annual Senior Girl Scout Luncheon and Investiture held recently at the Hotel De Anza in San Jose.

Eleanor Godon, past intertroop council president, installed Miss Yuki as secretary, and Miss Bergren as treasurer.

Other new officers are, Linda Whelan, president; Loretta Paviso, vice president; Nancy Chamberlain, publicity chairman; and Barbara Engfer, parliamentarian.

Maxine Altman of San Jose State College was guest speaker at the luncheon. She talked on clothing and grooming.

More than 150 Santa Clara Valley Senior Girl Scouts attended the event.

The annual per capita consumption of coffee in Sweden is the equivalent of 16.1 pounds of green coffee; in the United States it is 15.8 pounds.

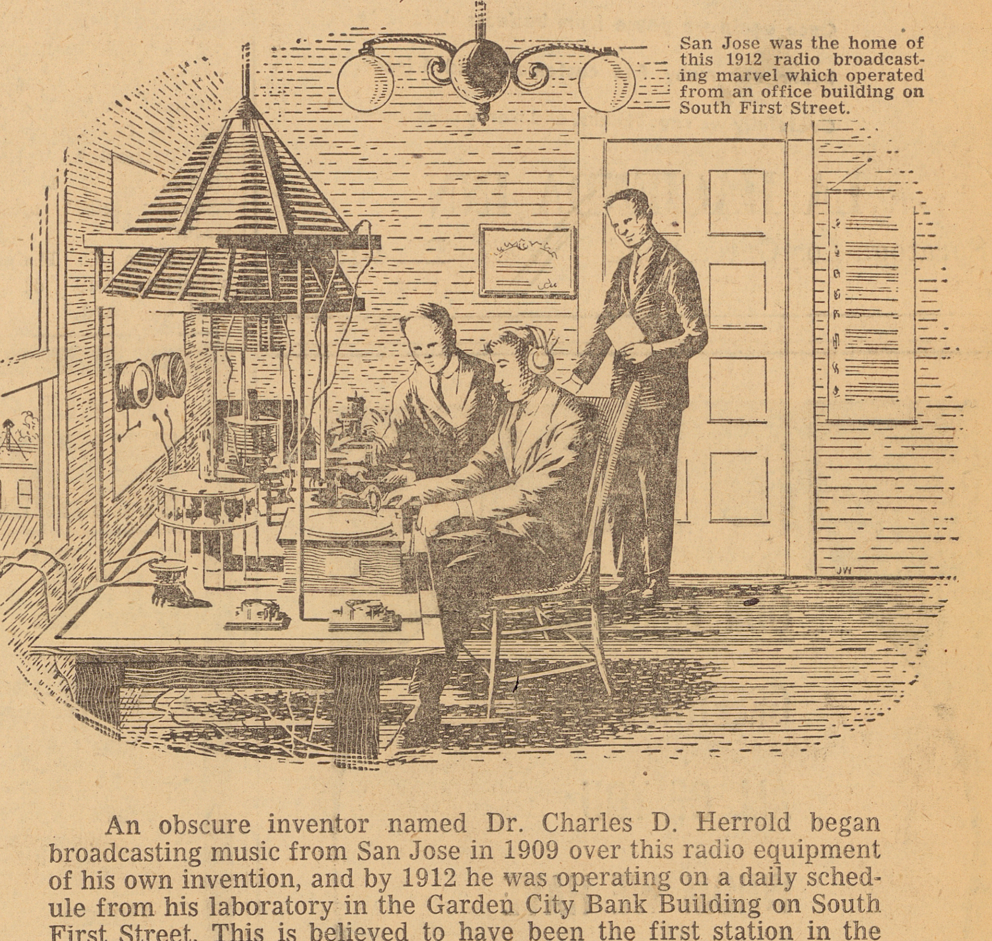
90 YEARS
OF DEPENDABLE WATER SERVICE



San Jose was the home of this 1912 radio broadcasting marvel which operated from an office building on South First Street.

An obscure inventor named Dr. Charles D. Herrold began broadcasting music from San Jose in 1909 over this radio equipment of his own invention, and by 1912 he was operating on a daily schedule from his laboratory in the Garden City Bank Building on South First Street. This is believed to have been the first station in the country with regular broadcasts.

Today, radio communication helps San Jose Water Works maintain dependable water service throughout the central Santa Clara Valley. A short wave transmitter at Water Works headquarters, less than a mile from the location of Dr. Herrold's 1912 marvel, permits immediate communication with maintenance trucks and crews wherever they may be. In case of emergency, repair crews can be dispatched to the scene without delay.

San Jose Water Works, after careful testing, has always quickly adopted new methods or devices that would improve service. And good service 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, has been something we've been proud of since the day 90 years ago this month when water flowed in the first main put down by San Jose Water Works.

A CHRISTMAS FABLE . . .

'Twas the night before Christmas, just about a year ago.
Not a creature was stirring, 'cept a mouse named Peter Po.
Peter had a knotty problem, 'cause he hadn't had the thrift
To save enough to give each friend a little Yuletide gift.
He'd hoped to give them lettuce, a rare treat for a mouse,
And that's what he was searching for, all throughout the house.
Then suddenly he saw some! But when he tried to nudge it
A trap went snap on Peter's tail—alas, he couldn't budge it.
Well, after several days Peter finally did pull free,
But much too late to give his friends a Christmas gift, you see.

MORAL: Don't get caught short of lettuce (people call it money) at Christmastime. Join Bank of America's Christmas Club now and start saving for your next year's shopping!

Church to Publish Children's Paper to Offset Comic Books

The Seventh-day Adventist denomination will begin publication at Mountain View in January of two new magazines for children as one phase of a drive by the church to combat the influence of "mind and soul crippling" comic books, a spokesman for the church announced here today.

R. R. Breitigam, of Glendale, Sabbath school secretary for the Adventist Pacific Union Conference, in making the announcement declared "the minds of American youngsters are being warped by tales of crime and violence in so called 'comic' books. There is nothing comical about these publications, unless a person takes static delight in the destruction of human life," Breitigam stated.

The Adventist leader said the two new publications will be dedicated to building character and creating respect for the laws of God and man. One entitled "Our Little Friend" is aimed at children just old enough to begin reading. The other, "Primary Treasures," will be for youngsters up to age 10. Both will contain eight pages, with two color printing and numerous pictures, according to Breitigam.

Annual Essay Anthology to Publish Works of Five Campbell Students

Editors Note: Following are five short essays written by students of Campbell High School and accepted for publication by a National Essay Anthology, "Young America Speaks." The essays are winners in a contest staged by the National Essay Association.

VALLEY OF GRANDEUR

Danny Theobald

In Yosemite Valley the mountains seem to touch the sky; the water is as cold and fresh as new snow; the Merced River flows with quiet, deep, blue-green beauty; the streams which feed it thunder out of the mountains with foaming, raging fury as they dash over the granite boulders. Tremendous water falls plummet hundreds of feet to the valley floor with the roar of a thousand loocmotives.

Here is the unharnessed power of Nature. In the midst of all this mighty strength one can see standing a new fawn, delicate and lovely in the meadows. This is Nature in Yosemite — raging, powerful, awesome, magnificent, and at the same time, lovely, quiet and peaceful. Here Nature expresses her soul for all the world to see.

THE SILENCE OF THE NIGHT

Grace Kubota

Oh, how I thrill at the night—so dark and so beautiful. Night is my time to think in the solitude of the darkness and a time to dream. It is a time when I am privileged to be alone from the busy turmoil of daily life. Whether I live in the city, where the city lights are bright and the noise constant, or whether I live in the country, where the stars and moon peak through the trees and the faraway bark of a dog can be heard, the night is always my very own. It is a time when I sleep to awaken to another day with the knowledge, that, when that day is over, there will then follow the calm of another night.

WORK WITH MIGRANT WORKERS

Verla Raab

Last summer I worked at a migrant camp, where underprivileged workers do summer work. The chief reason was to improve their standards and teach some religious thinking.

High school students would not think of going to help these people, because of their porr living conditions. But something kept drawing me back. The first time I went out, I was shocked how dirty they were, but I was also dirty by the time the night was over.

When I worked with them, especially the children, I felt happy within, because I was helping them and making them smile.

While watching a movie or even doing something else, they'd cuddle up and hug me. I hugged them back not knowing what made me do this. I guess I did this because I loved them. Their hugs and smiles were great rewards.

MY SEARCH

(name withheld by request)

How do I know there is a God? I have been told by various adults sheepishly, firmly, or knowingly that there is a God. But how do I know? I have never seen or experienced this intangible, indefinable thing called God. I have read books pro and con on the issue; and as a result, I am no more enlightened. I have heard of many tragic and cruel acts committed in "God's" name. Why does God permit savage things under His apparent sanction? If there is such a being, is He aware of my existence and perplexity, or am I just one infinitely small voice in a myriad of others? I should like to believe with all my heart, but belief must be acquired through experience, reason, and tempered by understanding.

REFLECTIONS OF PEACE AND DEMOCRACY

Kathie Headley

Until now, the word democracy has never held any significance for me. I accepted it as a way of life and took it for granted. In my history class we are studying world wars; their causes and results. Although I'm keenly interested in this subject, it leaves me with a sense of futility.

Through the years wars have become more mechanized with each one creating ingenious devices for destruction. The possibility of future wars is frightening to me. What a much better world we would have today if this ingenuity could be directed toward peace!

War seems to me like such an immature way of settling disputes. Surely mankind should soon advance beyond this primitive and barbaric practice. I am young and perhaps do not fully understand the reasons for war; but I insist that we can live in a world of peace and unity.

Merry Christmas
to everyone.

Santa's on His Way to Deliver Christmas Bliss to Newlyweds

The range of Christmas gifts for a newly married young couple is practically limitless, especially if they are furnishing their new home gradually, as so many are.

A really impressive gift such as furniture or a rug, needn't put a big dent in your budget if you buy it on a "pool" basis with several other young friends or relatives of the young couple.

New furnishings appropriate to every taste and need are widely available, and you can choose from a variety of designs—American and European Provincials, modern pieces, new interpretations of traditional styles and versatile transitional furniture.

First, of course, you'll want to find out how the newlyweds are furnishing their home. Is the decorating scheme modern, traditional, or contemporary? It shouldn't be too difficult to discover their preferences.

Furniture that does double duty is always a wise choice, and much is available. Convertible sofas and expandable tables will be appreciated by young-marrieds cramped for living space, while such pieces as a dining room sideboard that looks equally at home as a bedroom dresser come in handy if they decide to move or redecorate in the future.

If the bride is in doubt about her decorating scheme, a tweed carpet is a safe buy, and today the choice of tweeds is bigger and better than ever! She'll like the practicality of tweed and the way its multicolor effect makes decoration easy.

Draperies for their new home are available in a wide choice of original, fresh designs, Lace curtains, in lovely new styles, are sure to make a hit because they combine beauty with a light, airy effect.

Accessories, ranging from bookends to throw-pillows, are bound to be welcomed. One of the newly elegant lamp designs sparkling with gold, silver or crystal, would make an especially festive, yet practical, gift.

Hostess Gifts Get Welcome

Desirable gifts for holiday hostesses place high on the lists of all Christmas shoppers, and the cue for these gifts is taken from the hostesses themselves.

Because she loves to entertain, the hostess will greet with glee gifts to use when she welcomes guests. Fruit and cheese knives, guest towels, canape trays and glassware are some of the many possibilities.

For the guest who wants his gift to serve both as hostess gift and regular Christmas present, a look at the more substantial entertainment items is in order. Recommended as a very special gift to the hostess who likes to entertain with gracious formality is a centerpiece with candleholders in milk glass.

This will add charm and elegance to any dinner, especially around Christmas. And what could be more appropriate for formal entertaining—and for a gift—than a lace tablecloth in white or ivory.

For the hostess who enjoys entertaining informally, a portable barbecue or a silver chafing dish would make an ideal extra-special gift.

Whether she prefers to entertain formally or casually, a great-help gift for the hostess is a silent butler with matching ashtrays.

Individual casseroles or carafes, ice buckets, coasters, cocktail napkin holders—the range is wide and offers something to suit every purse and please every hostess.

Sea horses posses a finless prehensile tail for grasping twigs and branches of undersea growth.

December Driving Dangerous Institute Director Warns

Beware of the dark days of December. More than 4200 deaths are expected on the nation's highways to make this the worst month in the history of the automobile, says Arthur S. Johnson, Director of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company's Institute for Safer Living.

At this time of year especially, eyesight and common sense are the driver's most important protection against accidents, Johnson declared.

Storms, heavy rain, snow and sleet make driving hazardous. To be a safe driver one must have a "weather eye", especially those who commute to and from work in the dark.

In nearly one out of seven fatal accidents reported last year, the driver's vision was obscured. In two out of five of these cases the obstruction was on the windshield itself, in the form of rain, snow or sleet.

Johnson listed these added reasons why December is always a peak month for traffic injuries and deaths: The holiday season means more parties, more drinking plus more driving. There is more mental and physical fatigue caused by stepped up activities such as extra driving, shopping and social affairs. Yule lighting on buildings and streets provides an extra roadside distraction.

In many instances extra enforcement personnel is not available for assignment to congested traffic areas. On many areas, there will be hazardous road conditions.

Bad parking practices are noticeably high.

Hurrying pedestrians forget to watch their step. There are more inexperienced young drivers on the road, home for the holidays.

An often unsuspected cause of accidents at this season may involve increased use of medication due to colds. Such anti-cold drugs may make one too drowsy to drive,

Engineer Probes Noisy Problems

How loud does a sound have to be before it can be called objectionable?

This is a pertinent question in our age of superconic jets, roaring trucks, buses and automobiles.

The very loudness of a sound is a subjective evaluation relating to the listener's appraisal of what he hears according to Dan M. Finch, research engineer, Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering, at the University of California.

His views on the problem of highway noise from motor vehicles will be discussed in a broadcast of the University Explorer at 9:15 a.m., Sunday, December 16, over station KCBS, in San Francisco.

"How old am I?"
—asks Mrs. Louis Means,
341 Sunkist Lane, Los Altos

No doubt about it: The brightest decoration in many a home this Christmas will be Mother! Isn't it nice so many of today's mothers are so trim and youthful-looking?

One big reason is modern household appliances. They free women from heavy chores that used to rob them of their youthful beauty.

Take Mrs. Means: Mother of five, she leaves most of her hard work to labor-saving appliances. She's thirty-five.

Here's the beauty of it: With gas and electricity so cheap in California you can run a houseful of appliances all day for half the cost of most popular liquid make-ups.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Spring flowering bulbs should be planted without delay.

2. You will be thrilled next spring and summer if you plant bulbs of hardy garden Lilies now.

3. It's not too early to think of Christmas gifts for gardening friends. Most nurseries will hold and gift wrap any choice plant you select and deliver prior to Christmas.

4. Why not plan on a living Christmas tree? The tree can be decorated indoors and then planted into the garden after the holidays.

5. Rose Bushes, including the new All America Award Winners, make ideal gifts.

CHRISTMAS HOLLIES

Throughout America the Holly is traditionally a Christmastime decoration. Indeed, the waxy green leaves and bright red berries have become almost as common in American homes as the evergreen tree.

The popularity of Holly as a decoration in California, at least, can partially be attributed to its growing habits—Christmas Hollies can be planted and grown successfully in most areas of this State.

But the use of Holly doesn't stop there, says the California Association of Nurserymen, for the various kinds of this versatile shrub also make an attractive background and landscape plantings.

The English Holly has been used for Yuletide decorations for centuries; in fact, Holly is mentioned in old English carols and poems. It will grow well in all areas of California except in the hot interiors or locales with alkaline soils.

California Hollies

One of the best Hollies for California is the Chinese Holly. It is well adapted to warm, dry climates. A variety of this Holly is the Buford Holly, which is well suited to Southern California climates and is a most prolific bearer of bright red berries.

The Toyon or California Holly, a California native, grows as a large, bushy shrub or multiple-trunked small tree. Its glossy green leaves and scarlet berries make it ideal for Christmas decorations. It is also attractive in a garden or yard and is especially recommended for hillside plantings to prevent erosion of the soil.

Variegated Hollies, very similar to the English but for their foliage, offer leaves marked with variegations of silvery white of yellow—unusual in indoor decorations.

Holly shrubs prefer a rich, slightly acid soil but they will, obligingly enough, grow in almost any well drained soil, in sun or shade. You will find, however, that growth is more compact and the berries more profuse in the sun. Spray twice a year to control the mealybug, scale, leaf roller and leaf moth. In March or April and again iin September, spray with an oil emulsion (to control the mealybug and scale) mixed with nicotine sulfate (to rid the plants of the leaf roller and moth).

Now, while you're in the Christmas spirit, stop at your nurseryman's and select some Holly bushes for your yard. Your nurseryman can tell you which varieties are best for your locale. You may want to choose different types of the traditional and colorful Christmas Holly.

HOUSE PLANTS FOR CHRISTMAS

The use of a house plant as a gift is a thoughtful way of saying Merry Christmas to friends and relatives whether they are gardeners or not. House plants bring a great deal of beauty and life into a home and do not demand great care and culture.

The African Violet is a popular house plant and makes a fine Yuletide gift selection. It is available in white, purple and pink varieties. Many nurserymen are able to supply house plants potted in beautifully decorated containers, making them especially attractive as gifts. Tropical plants such as the ever popular Philodendron in its many forms and sizes are especially good Christmas gifts to people living in the modern homes, for the foliage plant seems to fit especially well in a modern setting. The Philodendron is available as a vine as well as in non-climbing, non-vine forms, large and small.

Succulents and miniatures in attractive planters or dish gardens are also popular as Christmas gifts. The world of succulents is huge, with some plants bearing beautifully colored flowers, others being valued principally for their shape and form.

BULBS FOR CHRISTMAS GIVING

Give your gardening friends a promise of spring this Christmas with packages of bulbs, or containers of bulb flowers in bloom. Bulbs are among the nicest of garden gifts to present during the holidays for they are easy to care for and rewarding to grow.

Combinations of several bulbs are especially nice gifts. Mix several varieties of the Daffodil—some from each blooming season—with different colors of Tulips. And add some of the early blooming, small bulbs such as the Hyacinth, Crocus, Anemone and Ranunculus.

There are many hybrid Lily varieties to pick from—the Bellinghams, Olympics and the bright Fiesta hybrids. Iris are favorites among bulb flowers too and very easy to grow.

Bulb flowers growing in containers can be selected too. These will be available in attractive containers, probably already in bloom for nurserymen force the bloom on the traditional spring bulbs for midwinter enjoyment. Cyclamen, Gloxinia and Daffodils, plus many of the other bulb flowers can be grown in containers indoors or outdoors instead of in the garrden bed.

As you make your Christmas garden gift selections remember the bulb flowers and present some of them ready to plant or in containers during this holiday season.

Hobby Presents Clue to Successful Gift Buying

Easiest of all men to gift is the hobbyist. All you have to do is to gear your gift to his favorite "off hours" interest, and you're almost certain to be right on the target of his heart's desire.

If he collects things, he'll welcome new specimens in whaever realm he specializes, from stamps to tropical fish and from old coins to phonograph records.

If he's keen on gardening, he'll turn a glad eye on anything that will make this activity more pleasurable or resultful. Suitable gifts range from such basic tools as pruning shears and spades to a wide array of new power equipment such as lawn mowers, hedge trimmers and cultivators.

Perhaps he's following the avocation of a "week-end painter". Then, easels, palettes, portable painting kits, brushes and tubes of oil colors are just a few of many appropriate gift possibilities.

If he likes to sculpt or work in metal or leather, you can please him with tools or materials for any of these crafts.

Model making is another popular interest, and there are complete kits for making everything from replicas of ancient automobiles and windjammers to jet planes and submarines.

Valley Forge—July 12 - 18

Boy Scout Officials Report Plans Progressing for National Jamboree

Boy Scout officials report excellent progress in preparing the site at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania for the Fourth National Jamboree to be held next July 12 to 18.

A 1,500-acre tent city will house more thn 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from all parts of the nation and some from other lands. It will have its own water, electricity and telephone exchange, post office, and other services for the largest gathering of boys in the western hemisphere.

About one hundred special trains and hundreds of buses will transport Scouts to the Jamboree. Railroads are giving jamboree participants special railroad rates and assisting in planning routes so that Scouts may visit leading cities and scenic spots before and after the jamboree.

Contingents will arrive during the three days before the jamboree's opening date, July 12. Three days will be needed to speed the Scouts home after the jamboree closes the evening of July 18.

The jamboree campers will be at least twelve years old, holding Second Class rank or higher. The jamboree is a self-sustaining enterprise made possible by the fifty dollar jamboree fee paid by each participant.

Double Medical Check

National, state, and local health and protective agencies are cooperating to give the jamboree a health and safety record better than the average city of 50,000 population. Doctors from home areas will travel and live with the contingents. Each jamboree Scout and Explorer is checked by a physician at home and again upon his arrival at the jamboree.

Already completed is a stage 300 feet wide and 100 feet deep in front of a natural amphitheatre that will hold about 55,000 jamboree campers and guests. Spectacular programs are planned for the opening evening, July 12, and the farewell program on the evening of July 18. Outstanding Americans will participate in both programs.

There will be other Scout shows in sectional arenas. Campfires and daytime demonstrations will give each Scout a chance to show his stuff or be entertained and instructed by the other fellow's skills.

Each night, radio-controlled trucks will deliver fresh dairy products, meat, fruit and vegetables to commissary refrigerators. It will be high-quality food, bought by the carload, to fit well-balanced menus.

Cook Own Meals

Troops will get their food and cooking supplies before each meal at sectional commissary tents. Jamboree campers will cook their own meals and share the daily camp chores. Each patrol or crew member will share such tasks as fire builder, cook, and "cleaner-upper". Thanks to the use of over one million paper plates there won't be a dishwashing problem.

The jamboree camp inhabitant will have plenty of time to pick up camping techniques through inter-camp visits, campfires and demonstrations. There will be excursions to historic shrines in and near Philadelphia.

Sunday, July 14 will bring one of the most impressive thrills to the jamboree. In several religious services, each conducted in designated areas simultaneously, the more than 50,000 boys and leaders will worship according to their own faitths, all united in the freedom of their right to worship God.

The sprawling tent city will be governed by the Scout Oath and Law and administered by teams of national, sectional, and troop Scouting leaders. Scoutmasters and their assistants are being carefully selected locally for the responsibility and honor of jamboree troop leadership.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

The ancient game of "jack straws" is becoming popular once again, only this time the stake involved is the future of the entire state of California. Our state is now the second largest in the Nation, and bids fair to soon become number one. Handling this terrific growth requires an orderly development of our water resources in accordance with a master plan. Unfortunately, past planning and any present efforts are as mixed up as the well known pile of "jack straws".

Mute testimony of our haphazard planning for state water development is evident everywhere. The City of San Francisco takes water from Calaveras Reservoir in thirsty Santa Clara County. The same city receives water from across the great Sacramento Valley with its Hetch Hetchy aqueduct. Oakland water also crosses the same valley. Federal government has brought water from the north down into San Joaquin Valley and has crossed the Hetch Hetchy and Oakland lines. The state Feather River project will do the same. With 405 of our water resources in the north coastal counties another criss-cross will result when this water is developed and brought to Southern California. North fights south, Federal government fights state government—too many people going in too many directions! !

Last Monday I conferred with Governor Goodwin J. Knight at Sacramento, and suggested to him that our California congressmen, state legislature, and Federal and State water officials meet in Washington next January to all get on the same track.

It appears to me that the California water problem is so great that the State cannot handle it alone nor should the Federal government attempt it alone. The interests of this far-flung state are so diverse that to attempt solution of our water shortage on a piecemeal basis is impossible. Only by meeting together can we convince various segments of the state that the problem will be met as an entire problem by both the Federal and state and that each area will receive benefit.

I sincerely hope this meeting will materialize and can result in unscrambling the pile of "jack straws". If they are not unscrambled they are very apt to go up in flames without the water to put them out.

Good Opportunities For Mathematicians

High school mathematics teachers are to get new ideas on their subject and its application to science and industry under a summer fellowship, according to word from Stanford University where President Wallace Sterling indicated fifty fellows will be selected from high schools of the 14 western states. General Electric is to pay all expenses for the course which is to last six weeks starting in June.

Dr. Sterling said it is hoped the teachers will be able to transmit this training to students to influence many to seek careers in mathematics in which field there is a career shortage.

Vivian Blaine To Appear in New Play at Alcazar

With Vivian Blaine, the never-to-be-forgotten Miss Adelaide of "Guys and Dolls", making her first dramatic appearance in the starring role, "A Hatful of Rain", Michael Gazzo's new drama opens at the ALCAZAR Theatre in San Francisco for a three and ½ week run after eleven months on Broadway, beginning Wednesday evening, December 26.

A compelling story of the impact on a family when they learn that a hero of the Korean War has become addicted to narcotics, the play finds Miss Blaine appearing as Celia Pope, the devoted wife of a veteran who has grown dependent upon drugs for his physical and emotional stability. March Richman, a graduate of New York's famous Actors' Studio will be seen as the addict. The other members of the family, Polo Pope and John Pope, Sr., will be played by Harry Guardino and Frank Silvera.. Guardino has been seen on the New York stage in "End As A Man" and has appeared in numerous motion pictures. Mr. Silvera has over eighty stage plays to his credit.

Set amid the tenements of New York's East Side, the play is a mixture of taut drama and boisterous comedy, the latter provided by Polo and a nymphomaniacal addict, or "junkie", known only as "Putski", played by Teddi Landess. When a group of junkies, headed by a supplier euphemistically called "Mother" force a show-down and demand payment for the narcotics they have sold on credit, the truth of Johnny's addiction is brought into the open. The family sees at first hand the horrors of an addict deprived of drugs, as Johnny suffers through the horrors of withdrawal.

Directed by Frank Corsaro with settings designed by Mordecai Gorelik, the play, with its New York cast, will be seen here under the auspices of the Theatre Guild-American Theatre Society and the Council of Living Theatre.

California's first state capitol was a small two-story frame and adobe building in San Jose, occupied Dec. 15, 1849 until Feb. 18, 1851, when the capitol moved to Vallejo.

BATTERIES TIRES-SERVICE

REINDEER are seen prancing over the roof tops from the Shell Service Station on Campbell avenue, as an indication that the Christmas season is close at hand. Nubs Schoenberger said the station would even fix runners on Santa's sleigh among its services.

Overheating Can Be a Holiday Hazard Like Overeating – But You Can Beat It

Overheating is just as much a holiday hazard as is overeating.

It's the rigorous round of too-crowded parties and the hot, stuffy rooms that cause as many cases of "holiday-itis" as the spicy foods, the rich deserts and the extra "spirits".

To avoid the usual post-holiday letdown, it's wise to protect the comfort and health of your family and guests by keeping your home well ventilated and pleasantly warm—not hot.

If you're expecting a group for a party, turn the thermostat setting down a few degrees as soon as the numbers begin to increase, warn Minneapolis-Honeywell heating experts. Body heat provided by the guests will contribute plenty of warmth—too much if the room is hot at the start.

By just standing around chatting, experts point out, a person generates almost as much heat as a 200-watt bulb, and in a stuffy room the heat literally has no place to go. The results: a feeling of lethargy and fatigue.

Keep the thermosat setting at 68 degrees while the party is in progress, then as the crowd dwindles and finally departs, reset the dial to the degree you find the most comfortable for relaxing.

Fresh, sufficiently moist air also is a must if you're entertaining a large group, according to the experts. Open the window wide for a moment or two to let the clean air in. To keep it healthfully moist, placing pans of water on a radiator top will help or arrange flowers and green leaves in deep bowls of water.

New Trend Shown In Fashion Jewelry

Fashion jewelry designs for Winter '56-'57 are fresh and exciting, says the Jewelry Industry Council, thus making jewelry a particularly good gift choice for Christmas this year.

Christmas shoppers today should look for two major trends in fashion jewelry: one highlighting the combination of textured gold colored metal in tailored designs, the other reflecting elegance with a lavish hand for gleaming stones and richly sculptured surfaces. Colored stones are, in fact, seen in both the tailored and dressy designs, the rich, warm colors of ruby, sapphire and emerald among the most popular for winter.

Campbellites Join Marine Maneuver

Pvt. Richard W. Crawford and Pfc. Curtis R. Puckett, both of Campbell, participated in a major United States Marine Corps amphibious landing exercise recently at Camp Pendleton, California.

Highlight of the exercise was the first use of large seaplanes by combat forces in regular training maneuvers. The seaplane, known as the R3Y, loads combat troops and equipment from the bow.

The plans was used to transport Leathernecks from the 1st Marine Division's 5th Regiment in a raid and destruction mission against "enemy" installations on the Salton Sea in the Imperial Valley——near Brawley, Calif.

New Christmas Cards Double As Tree Ornaments and Toys

Christmas cards, the traditional ambassadors in bearing 'Season's Greetings' will appear in several new roles in the Yule season of 1956 according to many home owners in the Campbell area.

Because of the ever increasing ingenuity of their designsers in producing brilliant effects and intriguing, almost game-like folds, many of these cards will serve as tree ornaments and as decorations for the mantel, the door and table. They may even serve as toys for the youngsters.

So universal has become the custom of exchanging Christmas greeting cards, they are now sent to friends and relatives who normally receive gifts, as well as those who do not.

And in some instances, especially for children, there are many new cards that actually incorporate the gift feeling in concrete fashion, as well as clever greetings.

Brilliance of the 1956 assortment is greater than ever with simulated gems being used in some instances while other cards are made to glisten with siver and gold treatments.

A series of eight mobiles, specifically designed to serve as tree decorations as well as a periscope. And among others is a money tree design with branches that may be filled with dimes. Still another is really a kit of magic tricks.

Most important to assured exchange of Christmas greeting cards before the arrival of the holiday is an early selection. Time also must be allowed for imprinting them if your list is long.

Even if imprinted, there's still an opportunity for scribbling a personal message on the card, if you start addressing early enough.

May the blessings of the season be with you.

Estimate Expects 200,000 S.F. Area Aliens to Report

District Director Bruce G. Barber of the Immigration and Naturalization Service estimated today that 200,000 aliens will report their address in the San Francisco District in January under the Federal Alien Address Report Program.

The Immigration official said that 190,000 aliens reported their address during 1956. The announcement followed a statement from Washington in which Immigration and Naturalization Commissioner J. M. Swing estimated that more than 2,750,000 aliens in the United States will report their address next month in compliance with the law.

Commissioner Swing said in Washington that with few exceptions every alien in the United States must report his address to the Service under the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

Barber, of the San Francisco District Office, said that all non-citizens except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives assigned to the United Nations, and Mexican national contract laborers are required to file the address report.

He added that any alien who willfully violates the address report requirement may be fined up to $200, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

In addition, aliens who are not in the United States during January must report their address to the Service within 10 days after their return.

Barber said that address report cards will be available at the Immigration Service Offices at San Francisco, Sacramento, and Fresno, and local United States post offices beginning January 1, 1957.

Age of Child Key To Toy Selection Professor Says

Assistant Santas shouldn't trust to memory about the birthdays of children to whom they plan to give gifts of toys this Christmas. If toy gifts are to score for safety and educational value, they must be chosen thoughtfully to fit the age and capabilities of each child.

This advice comes from Emma Dickson Sheehy, professor of childhood education of Teacher's College, Columbia university and chairman of the advisory committee of Toy Guidance council—which offers consumer booklets advising on play interests and safety requirements of different age groups.

Scientifically Tested

"Age suitability is scientifically tested by American top manufacturers," Prof Sheehy said.

"Based on this research, tags, labels and instruction sheets provided by many manufacturers give toy shoppers the essential information about why each toy is suitable for a particular age group; how the child can use it; why he will enjoy it and how he will profit from the play activity.

"Whether you are a parent, relative or just a friend of the family shopping for a casual gift, it's important to take the trouble to check on the suitability of the toys that you buy to be sure they fit the needs of the child for whom you are buying.

This is particularly important when choosing toys for a baby. Here are some basic points that are important to the happiness and safety of the crib and carriage set:

"Baby's toys should be light weight because his muscles are just beginning to develop strength. They should be bright colored because he can't distinguish subtler shades.

"Baby needs toys that are varied in textures to help him develop his sense of touch. Edges must be smooth because baby's skin is tender. It's essential that every toy he uses be too large to swallow; avoid loose parts that might be swallowed.

Built In Safety

"Everything baby plays with goes into his mouth when he's teething, so be sure his playthings are washable and safe to suck and non toxic. Picture books should be of washable cloth or plastic.

"In families where there are children of several ages, it is very important for parents to recognize that toys that are educational for older children may be unsafe for the pre-school child."

HERE'S HOW . . .

MAKE A CONVERTIBLE CRADLE-CRIB

A cradle that converts to a crib can be dismantled for easy storage.

The legs are of 2 by 2-inch lumber beveled at the top and inside corners, as shown.

Dowel holes shown in Inset A are 1⅜ inches from the top and 12⅜ inches from the bottom, ⅜ inches in diameter and ¾ inches deep. Drill a 5/16-inch hole for the rockers.

Make the rails of 1¼ by 2-inch lumber. Drill holes for the dowel bars and for the joint as shown in Inset A.

Assemble the frame. All dowel joints are permanent except the post and rail joints of the side panels. Use screws at these joints. Use braces at the lower rails for support.

Make the bottom. Cleats are fastened on the underside for added support. The rockers are made of 1 by 8-inch straight-grained lumber.

Finish with non-toxic paint.

High Schools Give Yule Programs

Christmas musical and drama programs hold the spotlights at Campbell and Camden high schools this week.

The Campbell High Christmas program will be held tonight (December 20) at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Camden high presented its Christmas program last night in the Camden Cafetorium. The performance featured the Gle Club, orchstra and modern dance club. In attendance were members of the school's PTA.

Tonight's program at Campbell will feature the music of the choir, glee club, orchestra and modern dance class.

The school's drama group will present a performance of "Why the Chimes Rang". It is a "miracle" play, which emphasizes that the greatest of all gifts is love, and that the only real miracle worker is prayer.

Irrigators Hit State Water Plan

The California Irrigation Districts Association at a meeting in San Jose on Friday introduced a resolution for presentation at the spring convention in Sacramento, March 20-22, seeking an orderly development of the State's water resources for the benefit of all the popl of California.

The resolution urges that the legislature set aside income from Tidelands oil development as a perpetual revolving fund for development of local water projects or units of the California water plan.

The fund would be for State projects or loaned at low or even no interest for development of local projects.

In a speech at the final session of the convention, Clyde H. Spencer, California regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, said the State water plan "must be flexible enough for continual changes." He cited California's rapidly expanding population.

State Senator James A Cobey (Dem-Merced) said the San Joaquin Valley now needs an additional eight million acre feet of water annually for its water short upper western side. However, a way must be found to carry off "bad water" underground and to provide drainage to prevent the vally floor below the drought area from being flooded by heavy irrigation above.

Bad water is water with salinity content too high for irrigation. Cobey said the best solution to the problem would be to build a 257-mile lined canal to carry a million acre feet of bad water annually from the southern valley to the delta.

FOOD CRUSADE

Every dollar given to CARE'S Food Crusade sends a 22 pound package of United States form surplus to help feed victims of war, tyranny and poverty in other lands, says Richard W. Reuter, executive director of CARE.

For Hungarian relief, CARE delivers $10 standard food packages; $5 "welcome kits" of toilet articles; $4 blankets, and variously-priced clothing and other supplies purchased as needed.

CARE urges persons to mail their Christmas donation for the Food Crusade, or for Hungarian relief, to 444 Market St., San Francisco 11.

Will a Tie a Day Chase Blues Away?

While neckties are among the first things that come to mind when setting out to select a gift for the man of the house at Christmas time, this year the shoppers of the Campbell area are finding that this perennial favorite is in a new and sumptuous packaging for those thinking in terms of giving a complete wardrobe with a tie for each day of the week.

In building such a wardrobe of neckties for a man, it is of foremost importance to coordinate colors with those of his suits and shirts, and styles with his individual tastes.

Within the framework of these two "musts" it is well to strive for as much variety as possible in design, texture and hue, so as to assemble a well balanced array of ties, that will look well upon presentation and wear well in daily service.

Neckwear continues along the slim lines that have recently been most popular. Stripes: diagonal, vertical and horizontal are fashion highlights along with neat overall patterns and Tartan plaids. Fabric-wise, a considerable choice is afforded.

COMMANDER WILL VISIT CALIFORNIA

Leo W. Crawford of Redwood City, State Commander of The American Legion announced today that W. C. "Dan" Daniel, National Commander of The American Legion will visit California after New Year's Day.

Crawford announced a seven-day itinerary for the National Commander who hails from Danville, Virginia. The itinerary includes appearances in Merced, Santa Rosa, Palo Alto, Lodi and Los Angeles.

10 Million Vets Enroll in Federal Training Program

Veterans' enrollments under four federal training programs have passed the 10,000,000 mark Veterans Administration announced recently.

The ten-millionth person to start training probably was a Korea veteran, VA added, since World War II training programs virtually have passed out of existence.

Since World War II, VA has administered all four training programs for veterans.

The first—Public Law 16 vocational rehabilitation for disabled World War II veterans—came into existence in March, 1943, during the height of the war. A total of 612,000 disabled veterans received training under Public Law 16 during the past 13 years.

Training ended for nearly all disabled World War II veterans on July 25, 1956. However, the law permits those in certain "hardship" categories to continue after that date.

The largest program of all—the World War II GI Bill—also was enacted during wartime, in June 1944. More than half of all World War II veterans, or 7,815,000, have availed themselves of its education and training benefits. This program, too, came to an end for practically all World War II veterans on July 25, 1956.

Public Law 894, providing vocational training to disabled Korea veterans, was enacted late in 1950. Since then, 44,000 disabled veterans have received GI training.

The fourth program—the Korean GI Bill—became law in the summer of 1952. During the past four years, a total of 1,645,000 Korea veterans have received GI training.

Under present law, veterans' training will be part of the American scene until 1968, at which time the program for disabled Korea veterans will come to an end. The Korean GI Bill for non-disabled veterans is scheduled to end in 1965.

Sports Material Is Winning Gift

With an avid interest in sports, few men ever really "grow up". They may slow down and puff a bit more but in their mind's world, they will follow their favorite team with unremitting enthusiasm from one end of the season to the next.

On the active-participant side, many men channelize their sports proclivities into such pastimes as golf, tennis, bowling, fishing, hunting or boating. If you want to score a solid hit with such a man at Christmas, the surest way is to "play his game" in your gifting.

For a golfer, there is a host of gadgets and accessories that will heighten his pleasure, maybe even lower his score! Consider, for instance, one of the new golf umbrellas that will fit so handily into his golf bag, a cart to tote the latter when caddies are in short supply, or a set of numbered covers for his clubs. Then, too, one of the new lightweight golf bags may be right on the beam. There's even a practice device with which he can sharpen up his putting indoors on rainy days and all winter long.

The bowler might well up his score if he had his own ball, with carrying case; bowling shoes and shirts can also aid and abet his game.

For the angler, the gifting possibilities are practically endless. So many new rods, spinning reels and lures keep bobbing up on the market that the fisherman who wants to keep abreast of the times (as what fisherman doesn't?) usually has an extra long "wish list".

For the hunter, there are sleeping bags, hunting coats and boots, portable cook stoves, compasses and an ample supply of his favorite shells.

For the "arm chair" or spectator-type sportsman, there are books about his favorite game.

The tennis addict will always appreciate a new press or cover to say nothing about shorts, shirts, socks, shoes and sweaters geared to his game. A few tins of tennis balls are always in order. While he may prefer to select his racket for himself, you can easily come to his rescue, giftwise, with a Gift Certificate on his favorite sports store.

The company said that their entire tax payment in the county for the 1956-57 fiscal year will be $1,628,244. This is an increase of $404,247, or 33 per cent over the last fiscal year.

Boundary Line Pact Discussed by Cities

TV Panel Chides San Jose; Borough System Is Hinted

San Jose civic leaders took the defense in a panel discussion Thursday evening on the TV program 'Decision' involving deliberately planned annexations. Mayors of Campbell, Cupertino and Saratoga challenged some of the maneuvers in which San Jose had taken in bulging their boundary lines. Moderator of the panel was Pierce Davies and the San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce was the sponsor.

A. P. Hamann, city manager at San Jose contended it was essential to be aggressive in order to develop with the area, and that it takes 'know-how' and money in order to build the industrial, commercial' and residential fields. He named some of the major developments within the San Jose sphere of influence which he attributed to the annex system.

The Campbell Position

Mayor John Chargin said that both San Jose and Los Gatos have agreed with Campbell on boundary lines and that gentlemen agreements exist among the three cities. He said that a few months ago he and other members of the Campbell government would have given a resounding "no" to annexations approaching our city limits, and that they did so when Maywood No. 3 came up for hearing to bring the San Joce city limits to within three blocks of the Campbell city hall.

"With the new agreement, recognizing our respective spheres of influence, we are bound not to cross boundaries. We will be vigilant to enforce this agreement, but feel that we can get along with San Jose so long as they too respect these lines. This neighborhood type of zoning has its advantages in long range planning as we can anticipate drainage, street work and other civic projects accordingly. I would like to see it advanced throughout the county."

Mayor N. T. Nathanson of Cupertino took a firm view against the San Jose strip annexing, as also did Mayor Burton Brazil of Saratoga, both of whom attributed incorporations as being self defense from being gobbled up by San Jose. Nathanson said his people had to exercise human rights as handed down by the constitution to defend their community entity. He doubted if Cupertino would have incorporated had San Jose not attempted to make of it a bedroom and let them continue paying the bills. He challenged the move to destroy agriculture, particularly the almost exclusive field for prune production. He contended the San Jose plan was not sound.

Mayor Brazil of Saratoga contended that the San Jose growth was unnatural and that urbanism was inevitable and desirable. Most urban communities today invite homeowners seeking to get away from big town life. To be sucked into a city that wants to be bigger is not solving a problem in Saratoga. He said they wanted to keep what they had and not to take on the evils of a bigger city.

Mayor Robert Doerr of San Jose said that he had gradually been won over to the program of of annexations as it seemed the best way to attract industries and a broader community life. He pointed out that big cities that had not made such plans, are now being fringed with small towns, citing St. Louis as an example. He said Willow Glen had been disincorporated and is now enjoying a country style of living within their city limits.

Hamann said in rebuttal that San Jose has annexed 9,000 acres in the last four years and that but half of one per cent of the people on this land had not wanted to be annexed. He denied that San Jose was trying to force annexations, contended that strip annexes are proper in order to take in an area wanting to annex, mentioning the IBM site. We can give them sewer, police and fire services. Hamann said 350 acres originally annexed to San Jose as a capital investment, has now grown to 2,000 acres.

Leonard Smith of the Junior Chamber of Commerce asked Mayor Doerr if Saratoga and Cupertino had not incorporated, could they not have been admitted as boroughs and still enjoy country living. Doerr seemed to agree.

BUSINESS FORECAST

The Campbell Press will publish Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1957 in the issue of December 27.

Since 1939 Babson's Predictions have never fallen below 76 per cent accuracy. The average for the 18 years is 85 per cent accurate.

Last year's predictions upheld this average when Babson's forecasts proved 85 per cent right.

Telephone Manager Gives Long-Distance Dialing Tip

A delay in the midst of telephone long-distance dialing can lead to a busy signal, says T. K. Nordheim, Pacific Telephone manager in Campbell.

He explains the situation this way: to dial a long distance call with FRanklin eight numbers, it is necessary to dial the 1-1-2 first. If a person pauses too long between the 1-1-2 and the rest of the number, Nordstrom says, the telephone equipment won't wait more than a few seconds, after which a busy signal may result even though the line isn't busy.

To avoid the possibility of such a busy signal, Nordheim suggests that callers keep the number they want at their fingertips before starting to dial it.
